“ Please accept my deepest sympathy for the loss of your husband, Craig. I have myself had a similar loss & wanted to share with you what comforted me. I learned that the Bible promises a resurrection of those who have died. At that time the meek will inherit the earth. (John 5 :28,29 and psalm 37:29) Revelation 21:3,4 speaks of the time when there will no longer be mourning, pain or even death on the earth and no person will say I am sick. I learned that this is what mankind will see under God's kingdom & when God's will will be done on earth as stated in the Lord's Prayer. Meanwhile, please let these scriptures & promises be of a comfort to you as well.

“ Ms. Jewel, I am so sad to hear of Craig's passing. My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family. I remember working with Craig in the old Wal-mart. We used to cut-up a lot in receiving. He once asked if I was going to wish him a happy birthday. I told him only if he wished me one in return. That's when we discovered we shared the same birthday. Ms. Jewel let me know if you need anything. All my love, Joyce Waller “ Aunt Jewelfaye, Terri, Kristal, and family, You are all in my thoughts and prayers. It's really tough for our loved ones to get called home and especially when someone is so young as Craig was. Guess God has things for him to in heaven, since he beat us there. I look forward to seeing him again there onday. I've got so many childhood memories that were created with Craig. I have to share a funny memory that I share with Craig as I think others will get a laugh out of it. When we were in middle school I can remember we had a great idea that we would be sick so that we wouldn't have to go to school the next day and we both took a good bit of the old chocolate ex-lax... yeah, you know what happened next but what we didn't realize is that it was FRIDAY!!! hahahaha yep... we did that! Aunt Jewelfaye I love you very, very much and I also have alot of good memories that include you as being a wonderful aunt!!! Loved those great big ole meatballs you made in the spagetti! I miss you all and love you all!
