“ Last December Michelle my sister called crying just beside herself needing much needed sleep , while having a daughter in her senior year of high school and her husband working as much and often to help pay for much needed cost plus to be able to have time off when the Drs came up with a plan , so I decided Saturday night to drive up Sunday to Emory and make her go to a hotel and sleep bc she was pretty picky about who she trusted to stay with hwhile he had just started his first couple of rounds of treatments . Well my husband having an uneasy feeling about me driving by myself I went ahead . As I arrived at Emory parked , Justin msteady calling my cell are you hear yet . When I got there he whispered, if moma don't get some sleep amd CHILL IM GOING TO THE PSYCHOLOGY FLOOR . I examined when she's nervous she will walk , clean , and can't be still . Well that night we were me and Michelle in a head on collision we were okay , bruised shook up deranged neck from the hit hit and bruised from air bag , well I came home the next day and as I said well Justin time for me to go , he said bye , I said no I'll see u when I get some more wheels . He said you promise . . So the next day I rented A TOYOTA .. He started calling while I was on the way . Hey aunt Christie, I'm going home tomorrow so you make sure you get hear .. Bc in leaving if I have to call groome. So the next morning after sleeping with my sister on a twin bed beside Justin laughing so hard I was crying , bc he pain meds and sedatives made him loopy , he was dressed packed , and had to have no fever and a blood count that met his criteria for leaving . So needless to say I was nervous about driving bc of the wreck bc of his clotting factors , so Michelle nervous made me more nervous , I said Justin why don't you sit in the back , he said , I want to make sure you don't forget the precious cargo!! Then while driving , he had the radio blaring , Michelle said Justin how are you not nervous , he said " moma , I told the dr the situation and aunt Christies track record , and I asked can I take an extra dose of Valium , the dr said , just to make sure you are covered don't just double up triple up ""!! I laughed so hard , when we got home his house , we were both tired , cold and I ran in his room and bundled up with his blanket and laid their and fell asleep feeling his breath on my face and I prayed then please GOD take care of him , it's not his time !!

Justin was witty , smart , handsome , and had a heart as big as the grand canon , I saw him sick , sicker and sicker and then peaceful , JUSTIN YOU HAVE YOUR WINGS NOW , FLY HIGH SOAR WITH THE ANGELS AND KNOW YOU WILL BE SO MISSED.!!
