“ Trudy, I'm already missing you coming over sitting at my kitchen table with me drinking coffee. I'm so Thankful you & I built a relationship over the past year where we could conversate & vent to one another about little things. We had some great laughs together & some tear jerky ones too and it won't be the same without you & it'll always feel like you're just away. I will miss you yelling in my kitchen window Sandi you up! I won't forget our last day together the conversations we had. I wished you had of stayed home this time :(I hope you're at peace and know your little sister loved you more than you knew! Til we meet again ❤️

“ Aunt TruTru, you will truly be missed but we know that you are no longer suffering. We were always close, especially when I was little then when I became a mom, all 3 of my girls took to their great aunt TruTru immediately. You were always great with all your nieces and nephews, great nieces and great nephews, with any kid really, they all absolutely adored you. You had a heart of gold with lots of love to give. We miss you and we love you
